Seventy Nine Delegates Of Calloway FBLA Attend Meet

Seventy-nine delegates of the Calloway County High Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America Club attended the convention in Louisville on Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28. Thirty Kentucky chapters and some 642 members and guests attended the convention.

Calloway County High participated in eleven of the fourteen contests at the convention and brought back awards in six of them as follows:

In the speech contest, Charles Fennell won the third-place award, and was presented with a Certificate of Award.

Frances Armstrong, Calloway County High's "Miss FBLA", won third place among the state chapter participants, and Thomas Gene Smith, Calloway County High's "Mr. FBLA", won third place also. These two contestants were first picked among the top ten, selected from a written application submitted by some thirty boys and thirty girls. They then were interviewed personally by specially selected business people as judges, submitting also a written letter of application and data sheet. After the final personal interviews, both of Calloway County High's contestants were selected for third place, Frances from the girls participating, and Thomas Gene from the boys participating. Certificates of Award were presented to each for this outstanding achievement.

The Parliamentary Procedure team, composed of Ronnie Like, Charles Paschall, Thomas Gene Smith, Charles Perry, and Edward Hale, won third place in the Parliamentary Procedure contest. First, the top five teams were selected from scores on written tests; then, these five teams put on an oral demonstration on procedure, and in the final round, Calloway County High's team rated third place. They received a Certificate of Award.

Calloway County High also won first-place awards, which included trophies and travelling plaques. The first-place attendance prize was brought home by Calloway County High. It was announced that the only award presented at the convention in which the judges were unanimous was the first place award won by COHS for its "Unique Project". This was a bound display of the programs prepared for the home basketball games which were sponsored by the club. The income from these programs was used to pay the transportation for the delegates to the convention. For these first-place awards, two trophies and two travelling plaques were awarded, in addition to a blue ribbon on the project.

Sponsors attending the convention with the club were N. P. Paschall and Mrs. LaVerne C. Ryan.

New Council Installed At Murray High

A new Student Council headed by Sheryl Williams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Max G. Carman, was installed in an impressive ceremony Tuesday at Murray High School.

Retiring President Richard Hurt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Hurt, reviewed the past year and said, "Murray High School reached new heights of greatness this year." He gave the 22 new council members the oath of office.

Vice-President Jimmy Olla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olla, praised the school, its students and student government and predicted equal greatness for next year and the future. He led the students in singing the school song accompanied by Ann Kay Sanders, Billy Wilson, vice-president elect, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, gave the invocation.

President Hurt introduced the new President, Sheryl Williams, who asked the "continued interest and support of the student body," as she promised to do her best to fill the "large footprints left by Richard." She began her remarks by introducing the council elect.

Other new officers besides Williams and Wilson are Secretary, Marian Belote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Belote, and Treasurer, Ann Kay Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sanders.

Class Representatives for next year will be Eighth Grade, Kay Pinkley; Ann Griffin, Bob Dunn, Robert Junior, Betty Sprunger, Shawn Bucy and Jimmy Ellis; Senior, Judy Adams, Patsy Purdom and Edgar Howe. Next year's Seventh grade will elect in September.

Student Council sponsors are Mrs. Dew Drop Rowlett and Paul Lyons. Principal Fred Schultz closed the program and thanked the Council and the student body for their help and cooperation with him in this "great year in Murray High School history."

Glenn And Titov Meet Today; Apparently Enjoy Their Visit

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov received a quick course in U. S. history today from the girls participating in the tour of the historical monuments and other tourist attractions in the nation's capital.

Glenn arranged to take the Red army colonel to see President Kennedy at the White House around noon.

All during the tour, Glenn pointed out the significance of the sights in the light of U. S. history.

Tourists Applaud Airmen
On several occasions, the two spacemen were recognized by teen-agers who cheered, applauded and waved.

Glenn and Titov first met at the National Academy of Sciences, where they shared coffee with their wives before driving around the city.

Their 18-car, police — escorted motorcade stopped first at the Lincoln Memorial, where Glenn called Titov's attention to the Gettysburg Address which is inscribed on the wall.

The 41-year-old Glenn and his 27-year-old Russian guest seemed to hit it off well as soon as they met. They exchanged autographs and joked together about the swarm of newsmen and photographers that flocked around.

As they were leaving the academy of science building, Glenn, taller than the Russian, came to the assistance of the five-foot-four Titov who had difficulty getting through the crush of newsmen.

Although both relied on interpreters, the two space explorers conversed animatedly and frequently exchanged grins.

When newsmen asked for their reaction to their first meeting, Titov laughed and said: "We're not trained for speech making." Glenn replied: "I certainly agree."

While the morning was to be spent on a friendly, social basis, Titov and Glenn also held man-to-man discussions of their historic space voyages.

The two astronauts and their wives were introduced in a second floor office of the National Academy of Sciences shortly before 9 a. m. (EST).

83 Dead In Japan Wreck

TOKYO, Friday (UPI) — Two passenger trains and a freight train collided on the outskirts of Tokyo Thursday night in one of the worst accidents in Tokyo history.

Eighty-three persons were reported dead and 189 injured in the three-way collision at suburban Mikawashima station.

One commuter train and the freight brushed each other on parallel tracks near the station, and three coaches of the commuter train were derailed.

Then another commuter train crashed into the derailed coaches, causing one of them to tumble down the railway embankment, trapping passengers inside.

Screaming and moaning passengers tried to break out of the three derailed cars as an emergency force of 1,000 policemen, firemen and railway workers tried to help them.

Police said 20 persons were believed trapped under the coach that fell down the embankment.

The accident was Japan's second train wreck of the day. Earlier, 37 persons were injured when a freight train slammed into a jammed passenger train at Koga station about 35 miles north of Tokyo.

In the first wreck the passenger train was bound from Tokyo to Sendai in northern Japan, carrying 1,200 passengers who were taking advantage of the May 3 constitution day holiday.

Pack Of Dogs Attack Girl On Bicycle

Patricia Jackson, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Jackson, narrowly escaped serious injury about noon today when a pack of about eight dogs knocked her from her bicycle as she was going back to Robertson School.

According to a neighbor in the area, the little girl was going back to school after dinner today when the pack of dogs attacked her and knocked her off the bicycle. The dogs sprang on her and "surely" would have killed her, the neighbor said, had not she, another neighbor and a college boy come to the aid of the screaming girl. Rocks and sticks were used to drive the dogs away from the child.

She was taken to the clinic where her injuries were deemed not serious. The person interviewed by the Ledger and Times said that the attack occurred on the street between Robertson School and Main Street.

This is the third attack on children in the area within the past four weeks by stray dogs.

Breathitt Will Seek Governor's Post; Combs' OK

By JOSEPH VARILLA
United Press International

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Hopkinsville attorney Edward T. Ned Breathitt was in the race for the 1963 Democratic gubernatorial nomination today, carrying the colors of Gov. Bert T. Combs and his administration.

Edward T. Breathitt

Breathitt made his announcement Wednesday afternoon in a news conference at a Louisville hotel.

At the time, he would not say whether or not he had the official backing of the governor as the administration choice to face for the gubernatorial race, but the governor made it official late Wednesday night, saying Breathitt was indeed his choice.

"I consider it my first duty to concentrate on the job of being governor for the remainder of my term," Combs said, "but I will support him within the limitations of that job."

Sources close to the governor said Combs wanted the news of Breathitt's announcement to be digested before he said anything for print.

They said, too, that the governor played a prominent role in the selection.

The fifty-voice chorus will sing such spiritual selections as "Deep River," "Roll Jordan, Roll," and "Babylon's Falling." Among the popular songs will be "Moon River," "Barbara Boat Song," "Let's Get Away From It All," and "If I Were a Rich Man."

Advance tickets are on sale for 50 cents. For tickets, contact any of the chorus members. Tickets will also be on sale at the door.

CANDID CAMERA COST

Wedding photograph albums average approximately $3 to $5 per picture, depending upon how many pictures are purchased. This expense will come after the wedding, but should be included in pre-wedding cost estimates.

Breathitt's decision to announce Wednesday.

Met Separately

The announcement came after Combs met separately with each of the three men who had been mentioned prominently as possible administration candidates.

Early in the day, the governor met with Breathitt at the Executive Mansion for a long talk. Later he talked for about 45 minutes with Court of Appeals Judge John A. Palmore. And at lunch he talked with Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward briefly — but Ward reportedly had been apprised of the decision earlier.

Despite the obvious politicking there was no word from Combs after his conference with the three men, he left his office.

Nor would Breathitt claim the support when newsmen tried to pin him down at a press conference in Louisville where he announced his candidacy. He would say only that he "would think" the governor knew he was making the announcement of his candidacy.

The conference, on the heels of the three talks, was called on short notice.

Asked if he had received any commitment from either Palmore or Ward, Breathitt answered that he hoped they would support him. Ward had a "personal commitment" for reporters who asked him about Breathitt's announcement, although he pointed out he had not actively sought the administration support.

Supporters Disappointed
But his supporters were openly disappointed. The first thing they wanted to know about Breathitt's announcement was how it was made.

"Did Breathitt say he had the support of the governor?"

However, by the end of the day, most of them were convinced that their man had been passed over.

"No one gives up a job as public service commissioner and goes to a Louisville hotel to make an announcement unless he has some pretty strong support," one of them said.

On the other hand, Palmore said he was relieved at the announcement — relieved because he did not have to make a decision about whether to run or not. "If the governor had asked me to run," he said, "it would have been a difficult decision."

Support Not Sought
He emphasized that he neither sought the support actively nor did he think it correct to squelch any support that came his way.

He does not plan to campaign for Breathitt, although he expects his friends will. He did not think it would be ethical for a jurist to engage in any political campaign.

But friends of Palmore said the judge was still convinced he could have beaten Chandler and that he would have run a better race than Breathitt. Ward's supporters said the same thing about Ward.

Combs reportedly decided in favor of Breathitt after an exhaustive check of courthouse Democrats. The reports on Breathitt were favorable.

But sources say Combs found some antagonism toward Ward and that the governor's decision was based on his 1965 experience when he was beaten by Chandler, did not think a judge could come off the bench and win.

Now the governor is faced with the job of solidifying support of his faction of the party behind him.

Chandler was not on the state and was not available for comment about his opponent. And was Atty. Gen. John B. Breckinridge who has said he will run for governor with or without administration support.

Breathitt, who had served three terms as state representative, relinquished his post as public utility commissioner. He announced his resignation when he made the announcement.

He said he will conduct his race on the record of the Combs Administration.

place never heard of the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees.

With the Giants and Yankees it seems that home run lightning strikes day after day . . . sometimes early . . . but more often in the late innings. Both lineups are loaded with whiplash-bat-swinging sluggers and there's just no telling when or where the blow will come.

The National and American league front runners did it again Wednesday to run their winning streaks to eight and seven games, respectively. The Giants now lead the NL by 1½ games while the Yankees have opened up an early 2½-length margin.

Chicago White Sox rookie Joe Horlen had the Yankees beaten, 3-2, entering the ninth inning but suddenly found himself a 4-3 loser after throwing only two pitches. Yogi Berra hit the first one for a double and Elston Howard hit the next one for a game-winning two-run homer.

Get Good Pitching
What makes the Giants and Yankees look even stronger is the powerful pitching each has been getting from a so-called question mark staff.

Juan Marichal struck out seven and pitched a seven-hitter to win his fourth game for the Giants. He was the sixth consecutive Giant pitcher to go the distance and he tagged the Pirates with their seventh loss in 10 games.

When Pirate pitcher Earl Francis departed in the eighth, it marked the 22nd straight time the Giants tossed their rivals' starting pitcher.

Ralph Terry was tagged for three White Sox' runs in six innings but then Jim Coates took over to throttle the Sox on one hit during the last three innings. Bobby Richardson ran his hitting streak to 17 straight games for the Yankees and Al Smith had three of the White Sox' four hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored a 4-1 victory over the Houston Colts and the Chicago Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 3-1, in other NL games. The Kansas City Athletics outslugged the Detroit Tigers, 12-3, and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Minnesota Twins, 6-5, in the other AL action. Four major league games were rained out.

Strikes Out Nine
Former Harlem Globetrotter Bob Gibson struck out nine and walked only one in besting the Colts for the second straight time. Bill White homered and Julio Goetz had three hits to lead the nine-hit Cardinal attack that dealt Ken Johnson, who fanned 10, his fourth loss in a row. Jim Pendleton homered for Houston.

Bob Buhl, in his first start since being obtained from Milwaukee, allowed two hits in six innings to snap the Cubs' seven-game losing streak. Strike-out king Sandy Koufax whiffed eight in 6½ innings but committed a key error preceding a two-run double by Andre Rodgers in the fourth inning. Sandy's first strike-out of the night raised his career total to 1,000.

Gino Cimoli and Norm Siebern collected three hits each as the A's routed Don Mossi in a seven-run second inning and went on to pound five Detroit pitchers for 15 hits. Al Kaline, Dick Brown and Bill Bruton hit homers for the Tigers.

Rookie John Powell hit two-run homers to pace a rally that enabled the Orioles to overcome Minnesota's early 5-0 lead. Dick Hall went the last 3½ innings to preserve the win for Hal Brown. Brooks Robinson had three hits for the Orioles.

Waiter Sees Graciousness Take Leave

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — In nearly 60 years as a head waiter, Rudi Gobi has seen gracious dining all but disappear, but something much nicer has taken its place — bigger tips.

The charge account economy has brought new prosperity for waiters, Rudi reports, since the big spenders need only write down the amount of the tips, sign their names and wait for their bosses to pay.

Rudi, a native of Italy, recently turned 60 with no thought of retiring. He began his career as a butler to the British consul in Rome, worked in China for a time and arrived as an immigrant in New York on Jan. 10, 1903.

He has spent his entire career since then on the same block on Manhattan's east side. For 15 years, he was a waiter at the St. Regis Hotel, on Fifth Avenue and 55th Street. His first assignment there was to look after the golden service reserved for private parties — give-nbys — the Vanderbilts, Astors and other members of the "400." Then he became a waiter in the hotel restaurants.

Two head waiters left the St. Regis to establish L'Aiglon, a restaurant down the block and across 55th Street from the hotel, and Rudi went with them. They are long since gone, but Rudi still is there, and he remembers all that has happened.

Ladies Improved Business
"When I worked in the Oak room at the St. Regis," Rudi said, "it was for gentlemen only. But business was not so good, so they took in ladies, too. Business improved 75 per cent."

"In those times, just rich people patronized restaurants. Many of them were travelers. They came to New York, stayed three or four days, and then sailed away on ships. Now business is different. Many of our customers are on business when they dine at L'Aiglon."

"People are more in a hurry than they used to be in the old days, it was different. Everything was ordered in advance. In the old times, tipping was quite different, too. Today there is much more in tipping than there used to be."

"In the old times, prices were lower. At the St. Regis, you could order roast beef for two for 75 cents. It was 40 cents for one. You didn't get much of a tip with prices like that. I remember going home one day in the depression of 1907 with 75 cents in tips."

Rudi observed that while people spend more today, they eat much less. Fewer could afford ordered and bread and dishes containing fat are avoided by most customers, especially the women, he said.

Park Ave. Unpopular
"When I started to work on this street, there never was anything but carriages outside," Rudi said. "There were very few pedestrians. I lived on the east side and had to cross Park Avenue over a wooden bridge at 53rd Street that went over open railway tracks. Nobody wanted to live on Park Avenue then. It was all black with smoke."

As he hovers over diners, making sure they are being well served, Rudi sometimes hears bits of conversation. He reports that people discuss business at dinner these days, while they used to talk about all sorts of other things.

Rudi took the day off for his 80th birthday, but that was his only concession to his age. He regularly works five days a week, from 12:30 to 2:30 P.M. and from 6 p.m. to midnight. Instead of going home to rest in the afternoon, he finds a good movie to sleep through.

This is where Rudi's higher tip come in handy. In the old days, he used to pay 5 cents for his daily nap. It costs him 90 cents now.

Travel Topics: New Dome Cars To See Sights
By RALPH VILLERS
The German Federal Railroad's Rheingold will make its swift run through the Rhine Valley in daylight and the dome car should lay out an even more exciting panorama of the castle-dotted land for the traveler. The same car also will contain a bar, writing compartment and a telephone booth - for making either intra-germany or international calls via ultra short-wave radio.

The new light-weight steel cars will slip over the 400-mile run between Hock van Holand and Zasse in 8 hours, 45 minutes (an average speed of more than 50 miles an hour), a 50-minute shortening of the present schedule.

The fact the train is being constructed at all might appear to be a marvel to many Americans, who have been almost saturated in recent years by the financial ills of this country's railroads - blamed on the lack of passengers and revenue to support runs. But European railroads in general, and the German railroad in particular, are looking this year to more - not fewer - passengers, according to Joachim Wenzel, Wenzel, general North American representative for the German Federal Railroad, pointed proudly to a steady and substantial climb in passenger revenues for many years past.

In West Germany, which has just over 52 million population, less than one-third that of the United States, the Federal Railroad last year carried over 1.2 billion passengers and took in 2.3 billion marks ($975 million) in passenger revenue.

In this country, fewer than 3 per cent of travelers take the train - and a whopping 91 per cent drive. In Germany, one of every five travelers go by rail.

"You can earn money from passenger traffic, but you have to do something for them," said Wenzel.

Such extra services as stewardesses and the chance to take your car along with you on the same train for local driving at the end of the trip keep passengers happy and bring in new ones, he said. Even such things as the Eurail-pass, which gives unlimited first class travel for one to three months for a flat fee, brings in more money than the railroad might make otherwise, Wenzel said.

A vacationer who buys the pass, say for $110, does a lot of traveling, Wenzel said, but if he had not bought the pass, he might have spent only $80 on rail trips. That, he said, is making money, not losing it.
